January 4, 1988

To the Legislature of the State of Mississippi:

In accordance with the requirements of Section 37-3-11 of the Mississippi Code of 1972, Annotated, I am pleased to submit to you the annual report of the State Superintendent of Education for the fiscal year 1986-87.

We had recognized three years ago that the 1986-87 school year would probably be the most difficult year since the passage of the Education Reform Act of 1982. This was because several of the most important components of the ERA all had "due dates" this past year. Despite that, the 1986-87 school year was one which once again saw substantial progress being made by schools and students in Mississippi. Student achievement, as measured by our Basic Skills Assessment Program (BSAP), rose remarkably in all grades except the 11th, where the effects of the Education Reform Act are considerably less than in the early grades.

The "Class of 1999" entered school last fall as the first full-time kindergarten class in this state's history. A total of 33,418 5-year-olds were enrolled in kindergarten, and the program has been universally acclaimed by parents across the state.

One of the highlights of the 1986-87 school year was the implementation of the "alternate route" to teacher certification. Mississippi now has one of the most innovative programs in the nation, and 134 persons were provisionally certified to teach under this plan which allows a non-teacher education college graduate to begin teaching if he/she can pass the National Teachers Examination with a score at least at the 51st percentile in the chosen teaching field. In addition, 335 other teachers who were already certified used a similar provision to gain certification in an additional teaching field. Both of these programs are helping us to alleviate a potential severe teacher shortage.

I am pleased with the progress that we are making, and I reported on that in the publication ("The Education Reform Act--Five Years Later") which I released to the citizens of Mississippi this summer. We have much to do, but we have come a long way these past three years. I look forward to working with you in this new session of the Legislature as we strive together to make things better for the people of this great state.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Boyd

Definition: A school is a division of the school system consisting of a group of pupils composed of one or more grade groups, organized as one unit with one or more teachers to give instruction of a defined type and housed in a school plant of one or more buildings. More than one school may be housed in one school plant, as is the case when the elementary and secondary programs are housed in the same school plant.

SCHOOL ACCREDITATION
1986-87

The Education Reform Act of 1982 created a performance-based accreditation system and made state accreditation a mandatory process for all public school districts. The performance-based system emphasizes outcome measures rather than quantitative factors and is designed to accredit school districts rather than individual schools. During school year 1986-87, the performance-based accreditation system was implemented, and the Commission on School Accreditation awarded an accredited status to each of the 153 public school districts and the four agricultural high schools representing a total of 836 schools. The state accreditation system remained voluntary for nonpublic and special schools in the state. The majority of the nonpublic schools are parochial, and the special schools are those established to serve special needs of students. During the 1986-87 school year, the Commission on School Accreditation received applications from and subsequently accredited 64 nonpublic schools and 19 special schools.
